Conditions of Entry – Read Your Water Meter Competition – Water Week 2018

1. By completing this form and entering the competition, you ('the Entrant') are deemed to have read and agreed to these conditions.
2. Entrants can enter by reading their meter at the start and end of National Water Week, which is on the 21 October 2018 and 27 October 2018. The reading taking must be written on this entry form in the table provided. Entrants must calculate how much water has been used between the two reads and write this on the entry table. Entrants will not be excluded if the calculation is incorrect, as this is a competition encouraging customers to read their water meters on a regular basis.
3. The competition is open to all customers serviced by Aqwest, however only one Entrant per property serviced by Aqwest may enter the competition.
4. There are two prizes of $500.00 cash. Total prize pool of $1,000.00.
5. By entering the competition, the Entrant authorises Aqwest to publish the winners' names and photograph likeness in any Aqwest publication or promotion materials, competition materials, materials promoting water conservation or future competitions, all of which may be published in the media and on social media.
6. The winners of the competition will be decided at the discretion of Aqwest by way of a random selection from eligible entries and there will be no right of any Entrant to challenge the judges' decision. Aqwest will not respond to any challenges of the judges' decision.
7. No Aqwest employees or their immediate family can enter the competition.
8. The competition closes on 02 November 2018 and will be drawn on 06 November 2018. Winners will be notified by telephone by 09 November 2018.
